

Journal of Advanced Medical and Pharmaceutical Research (JAMPR)

- 1) JAMPR has been issued by Faculty of Pharmacy of pharmacy, Tanta University in 2020, where the first issue was on June 2020.
- 2) The journal is listed in the Egyptian Knowledge Bank and has a unified international deposit number (ISSN 2636-4158).

Distinguished Features of the Journal

- The journal has a complete electronic system to manage the arbitration and publication process quickly and efficiently.
- The journal is within the Egyptian Knowledge Bank journals, which are periodically evaluated for inclusion in the promotion committees and attached to international publishing houses, and then the Impact Factor is issued at the time.
- The journal has an editorial board of experts in the field of specialization, a broad base of Egyptian and foreign arbitrators, and clear arbitration policies to help raise the quality of research accepted for publication.
- The journal gives each accepted research publication a unique digital identifier (DOI), which ensures that the article appears directly on different search engines on the worldwide web and calculates the number of citations.
- Research is available on the journal's website as soon as it is accepted with more opportunities to cite it
- The arbitration period takes between 3 and 5 weeks after the submission of the research.
- The journal's data and research presentation method are available at JAMPR.ekb.edu.eg.